ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP

What about Trees? Arbor Day was celebrated on April 23, 2017; a time we think more about trees and how they are beneficial to our world. Trees are a huge part of nature's way of removing pollution from the atmosphere which improves our air quality and human health. This is just one of many facts that are important to us all. Contact your local arborist or the Arbor Day Foundation (www.arborday.org/trees/treefacts/) for more information. Plant a tree.
